

ServiceMaster By Glenn's Launches Newly Redesigned Website

VERO BEACH, FL, USA, April 25, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The past year has been a positive, productive one for ServiceMaster By Glenn's, operated by Keith and Mary Grella. In 2018, they are celebrating 40 years in service and have built a new website focusing on helping prospects and customers find urgent information on for mold, water and fire damage restoration.

The new website also features a new video created by Zack Grella, Keith Grella's son. Zack is the third-generation to be lending a helping hand in the restoration business! Zack's unique video talents are being used in the company's marketing. Check out the new opening video being featured on the new website.

This new website has been inspired by their 40th anniversary in business, communicating their extensive knowledge and experience featuring a project timeline and mold certifications on a newly created "Meet the Owner" page. The new website also features easy navigation that allows users to quickly access how to resolve water or fire damage in progress and how to respond to these emergencies. In addition, the new website also features their community support projects (such as their support to Habitat for Humanity, scholarship and sponsorships) as well as the ability to see the latest job openings available.

I'm very excited to announce the launch of our website! Our goal was to make the new website easy to view on any device and for those seeking guidance on disaster damage easily accessible.”
